Have You Submitted Your Ugly Sweater Contest Photo Yet?

The holiday season is approaching, and with it comes one of our most anticipated traditions. Hudson Regional LTC Pharmacy's annual Ugly Sweater Contest is officially open for submissions.

Last year's winners created an unforgettable sweater design that captured the humor, creativity, and festive spirit that define this tradition. Their win earned them a Pizza Party hosted by CEO Angelo Angerame, and the same prize awaits this year's champions. Every entry reflects the teamwork and imagination that make this contest so memorable.

How to Enter:

- Submit your photo to aangerame@hrltcp.org
- Deadline: December 10, 2025
- Winners announced in the December issue
- Winning house receives a Pizza Party hosted by our CEO

We can't wait to see all the creativity this year. Every sweater tells a story, and every entry brings the season to life.

A Letter From The CEO

As fall settles in, many of us begin to notice the shifts that come with the season. Cooler mornings, earlier evenings, and the return of familiar routines serve as reminders that we are heading into the months when respiratory illnesses become more common. These changes highlight the importance of preparing early, especially within long term care settings.

This is the time of year when protecting health becomes especially important. Both the flu vaccine and the COVID vaccine remain key in reducing the spread of illness and lowering the risk of serious complications. Facilities can request for our team to come onsite to administer vaccines, and we are always ready to support you. Our staff arrives prepared, handles the process efficiently, and works alongside your team to ensure residents receive the care they need without additional stress or delays.

At Hudson Regional LTC Pharmacy, our goal continues to be making healthcare more reliable and easier to access. Seasonal changes can be demanding, but taking preventive steps now helps safeguard the well-being of those we serve throughout the fall and winter months.

Yours in Health, Angelo Angerame

Cornhole for a Cause: Community, Creativity, and a Night to Remember

In Flight's annual Cornhole for a Cause fundraiser brought together families, supporters, and community partners for a day of connection, competition, and creativity. This year's event embraced a full Star Wars theme that added excitement from the moment guests arrived. Tournament brackets were filled with players in costume, boards decorated with characters and galaxies, and supporters cheering on their favorite teams as they moved through each round.

Hudson Regional LTC Pharmacy was proud to be part of the celebration once again. CEO Angelo Angerame was humorously crowned The Great Cornholio, a title he embraced with enthusiasm and plenty of laughter from the crowd. His participation added to the spirit of the day and highlighted the awesome partnership between Hudson Regional and In Flight. The lighthearted moment captured exactly what makes this event special each year: community members coming together in a way that feels joyful and uplifting while supporting a meaningful mission.

Throughout the afternoon, families and supporters enjoyed food vendors, raffles, themed activities, and opportunities to learn more about how In Flight empowers individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities to build greater independence. The event balanced fun and purpose seamlessly, creating an atmosphere where every participant felt part of something bigger.

As the sun set and the final games concluded, the field transformed for a closing experience that blew everyone's mind. Guests gathered for a drone show that illuminated the night sky with scenes inspired by the Star Wars universe. To close out the show, the Hudson Regional LTC Pharmacy logo and the In Flight logo were presented. It was a striking visual tribute to partnership, support, and the shared commitment that brings this event to life year after year.

Cornhole for a Cause continues to be a reminder of what happens when community, creativity, and compassion come together. Hudson Regional LTC Pharmacy is honored to support In Flight's mission and looks forward to being part of this unforgettable event for years to come.
